"I found the Management Buckets Seminar one of the best leadership events I have attended. Many of us land in Leadership and Management when all our training has been in technical disciplines. We may have picked up some hunches and ideas about leadership along the way but have no framework for fitting it together. Management Buckets teaches us 20 core competencies to lead an organisation. Whether the challenges for you in business, ministry or church setting are in strategy, community or processes, this seminar will be helpful."

Invest In Your Organisation's Future!

9 Big Management Breakthrough Strategies & 99 Practical Take-aways!

1. Understand and implement the 20 Management Buckets system.
2. Identify your management strengths and build around your weaknesses.
3. Achieve goal alignment with your direct reports and implement the easy-to-adapt Buckets Standards of Performance accountability system.
4. Maximise the memorable People Buckets approach and nurture strong relationships with insight and integrity.
5. Create incredibly simple time management systems for tasks, priorities, paper, email, voice mail and interruptions...and balance work and family goals.
6. Turn your team and direct reports into motivated achievers and decision-makers.
7. Eliminate your "too-many-balls-in-the-air" crisis management style and implement the Management Buckets career-builder approach.
8. Mentor your team with reproducible take-away tools and tactics.
9. Excel as you focus on key result areas: leadership, vision/mission, fundraising, board governance, and growth—and thrive in your spiritual and family life!

And ... unwind, kick back and let off some steam—in a very safe setting for whining, dining and debating over why it's so challenging to be a ministry leader!

Workshop Presenter: John Bradford

John retired from the Commonwealth Parliament of Australia in 1998 after serving as an MP for nine years. With his wife Judy and their three children, they then embarked on five years of overseas missionary service. This included Mongolia, the U.S. and the United Kingdom where John had the responsibility of leadership in a major Christian medical charity which focused on Central America and West Africa.

Returning to Australia's Gold Coast in 2004, John was appointed Mission Development Director for the Bible Society Australia (Queensland) where he had responsibility for major donor development. Until February 2008 he also broadcast regularly on a community radio station as a political commentator.

John is highly regarded as a public speaker, communicator and motivator. He has been successful in conducting negotiations in complex and sensitive situations and brings real life insight and experience to his workshop presentations.
